

The Rimfire Precision section hosts weekly CMP and NRL22 practice sessions for 22LR rifle shooters.

CMP runs on Monday nights on Range 1.

Sign-in and setup at 1800.

CMP is a very simple course of fire. The focus is on the fundamentals of static positional (prone/kneeling/seated/standing) shooting. When you're ready to progress beyond bench shooting on Range 7, come give this a try. This program is open to members and non-members alike. In 2023 we had a total attendance of 323 shooters over 50 matches.

NRL22 runs on Thursday nights on Range 7.

Sign-in and setup at 1800.

NRL22 courses of fire involve multiple targets at multiple distances per engagement. The shooter must learn to hold-over or dial their scope properly. These courses are often shot from barricades with transitions between different positions on the barricade. NRL22 is dynamic and the focus is on shooting from uncomfortable positions and moving between these positions safely and efficiently. This group regularly competes in local (and some not-so-local) NRL22/PRS/CRPS matches. This program is also open to members and non-members alike. In 2023 we had a total attendance of 329 shooters over 52 matches.

We hope to see you at one or both of these practices.
